The Choctaw Community Planning Coalition (CCPC) is recruiting new members to be a part of their team. The CCPC's mission is to decrease substance abuse among Choctaw youth, and the adverse effects of substance abuse in the Choctaw communities. The CCPC forms a framework for collaboration between service agencies, eight tribal communities, surrounding non-tribal communities, mental health, law enforcement, media, businesses, schools, health care, parents and youth to provide positive activities and programs that educate and strengthen Choctaw families, resulting in a healthy, responsible and caring community.
